25X1	 	Prior to April 1952, the former Polizei Kaserne on the south side of ul. Reosevelta Franklina, formerly Kampfbahnallee, in Hindenburg (Q 51/Y 47) 25X1 quartered an estimated 600 to 700 Polish soldiers who wore red cap bends. After the summer of 1951, 12 AA guns very similar to the German 88-mm AA gun, were observed in the barracks yard and on the square immediately west of the installation. ZIS trucks were observed with the unit. No prime movers were seen. The guns were never seen outside the billeting area. They were supported by outrigger-type gun mounts and had no muzzle brakes. Maintenance work was occasionally performed on the guns and the motor vehicles. Service of the piece drill was observed once. No ballistic director was noticed. In the summer of 1951, for round gun emplacements, which were surrounded by earth walls, shout 1.5 meters high, were excevated in the terrain west of the barracks installation. The former Hitler Youth home west of the barracks installation also belonged to the military billeting area.
25X1	8.	Prior to late 1951, labor troops wearing red cap bands occupied the cantonment near Makoszowy (Q 51/I 47), immediately just of the railroad station. Soldiers of this unit who worked
